

Ampeire & Co. Advocates treasures its clients - the reason for its practice.

We have created a unique, fruitful and working relationship with our host of reputable local and international clients to better understand their briefs, special business, individual circumstances and needs.

Our ever growing and satisfied clientele include private individuals, small, medium and large corporate entities both local and international.

On account of the confidentiality undertakings with our clients, a full list of our clients is available upon particular request and subject to client approval. All disclosures are subject to equal confidentiality commitments on further disclosure.
